

Evaluation of the research project

Evaluation of the research work

The reading committee, consisting of the mobility coordinators, performs the evaluation of the manuscript and presentation. The presentation and manuscript each comprise one third of the final grade.

To evaluate the day-to-day work, the supervisor completes the two tables below. Only the final number is necessary, the individual categories are provided to allow more consistent evaluation between students. The supervisor sends the tables, including the proposed score and motivation, back to the coordinators.

For the theses where there is a co-supervisor, the supervisor and co-supervisor can complete one common document.

The supervisor feedback will be used as input to the determination of the global score during the closed review of the presentation and research report, and public feedback to the student can be provided if necessary.
